Assess Your Goals

Carefully analyze exactly what you hope to achieve with this remodel. An iCabinets designer will help you solve any issues or questions. Consider the following.

- Do you have enough floor space?
- Are there any traffic bottlenecks?
- Does the workflow accommodate your cooking routine?
- Can you easily move from the range to the sink?
- How effective is your kitchen when more than one person is cooking?
- Do you have any special storage needs?
- Is your cooking style occasional, casual or professional?
- Does anyone in your home have difficulty bending or reaching?
- Will average-height counters work for everyone in the family?
- What other activities besides cooking happening your kitchen?
- Do you have some high-quality wants, such as pro range or Quartz countertops?

How to hire a Contractor:

- Use personal recommendations and online directories like Angie's list to develop a list of contractors.
- Cross off any without a license, bonding or insurance.
- Cross off any who are not free to complete the project on your schedule.
- Cross off any who have not recently completed similar projects
- Interview contractors
- Call their references
- Sign a contract with a payment plan
